CLERKS WHO FEEL INDEPENDENT OF THE COLLECTION COMMITTEE. The indications are that a good many of the government clerks will do just as they please this year about contributing to the republican campaign fund. They feel that the civil service law affords them ample protection, and they are disposed to be independent. In one room where eight or ten government clerks were assembled, the question of cubic yards, and from the channel below the bridge contributions came up to-day, and one of them declared: "I will not give a cent." "Nor I." "Nor I." repeated the others, until the sentiment was echoed by every one present. A Star reporter who happened to be in the group asked if they had so that the start of the flats was 504.169.63 cubic yards, making a grand total of 1,136,531.70 cubic yards. THE GARBAGE CONTRACT RENEWED. It was stated in THE STAR a few weeks ago that the Commissioners had concluded to extend the contract with Mr. F. M. Draney for the removal of garbage, night soil and dead animals for another year. The terms with Mr. Draney have been somewhat modified from those of last year. Under the new contract the contractor may charge the citizen 75 cents per box for removal of night soil, and he must properly collect and remove all night soil from the District school buildings without charge. THE POTOMAC RIVER IMPROVE-MENTS.

The Work of Reclaiming the Flats. PROGRESS MADE DURING THE PAST YEAR-WHAT IS TO BE DONE DURING THE PRESENT YEAR-THE IM-

The annual report of Col. P. C. Hains, on the improvement of the Potomac flats during the last fiscal year, says that at the commencement of the first time. His speech was in splendid taste, and the work had only been fairly started. It year the work had only been fairly started. It was delivered with the air and manner of a man was determined to apply the funds appropriated in who knows himself. He had no notes at all. I saw feet deep at low tide and about 400 feet wide from steel ship armor for government use. Their report will be made to the House next session, and is expected to be quite interesting, as it will probably throw some light upon the enormous expenditures which have been made without any material improvement in the quality of ordnance in use by the government.

MR. Culbertson's Tariff Spech.—Secretary McPherson, of the republican Congressional committee, says that one of the best tariff speeches.

Tact with P. Sanford Ross was to dredge a channel for navigation about 400 feet wide and 20 feet deep through the bar below the Long bridge and deposit dredgings on section 3, and another channel through the bar above Long bridge and deposit dredgings on section 1. The price was 21.2 cents per cubic yard, measured in scows. At the commencement of the year the contractor had five dredges at work and this number was increased to eight, two being small dipper dredges for hard material near the bridge.

HOW THE WORK IS DONE. The manner of doing the work, which is generally approved, is to dredge the river at the required place, deposit the material in dumping scows, tow them to receiving basin and dump into it, then redredge from the basin depositing the material in cars that convey it to the flats. For filling in secfor 400 feet and then by a single track running parallel to the sewer canal 400 feet from it till it United States. The orders of Lieut. Geo. T. Emmons to the Pinto have been revoked, and he will be granted leave of absence on the arrival of the Adams at San Francisco.

Way live lines of tracks were built. On second the work was carried on in a similar manner. The material taken from the river, both above and below the bridge, varies considerably, being soft mud, stiff mud, some sand and a little gravel with mud, stiff mud, some sand and a little gravel with mud, stiff mud, some sand and a little gravel with mud.

A PART OF THE WORK COMPLETED. The section of work below Long bridge contracted for by Mr. Ross is completed. Total length of track built was about 7,400 feet; the number of cubic yards of material deposited 557,056—an average of intimating that Davis would support Blaine, the ing, and an endless chain dredge for loading them, it is believed that the amount put on the flats per lineal foot of track could be greatly increased. It is doubtful if this method of deposit can be profit ably employed after the grade of the fill is raised. The hydraulic system would do better work at less cost and most of it without the necessity of second

THE MATERIAL TAKEN OUT. The total amount of material taken out from the channel above the bridge and deposited on sec. 1 of the flats during the fiscal year was 633,362.07 land from overflow, even in ordinary freshets. A suspension of dredging became necessary in the latter part of December, as ice began to form and the material would not dump. Work was resumed about the middle of March. No freshet occurred during the year sufficient to raise the water over five feet above mean low water or two feet above

Simultaneously with the work of dredging the channel and filling the flats, the foundation for the slope along the margin of the fill has been carried on to protect the material and prevent its being washed back into the river. The excavation of the trench was done by Thos. P. Morgan, at 7 cents per cubic yard. The mattress was laid by hired labor and the stone forming the footing of the slope was put in place by H.P. Gilbert, at 74% cents per cubic yard. Mr. C. Somers, of Philadelphia, who was awarded the contract for dredging in front of the slope wall and depositing behind the wall to form an embankment, at 10.8 cents per cubic yard, began work December 5, 1883, and has been steadily at work since. Up to the present time he has dredged and deposited in embankment 100,945 cubic yards.

AN EMBANKMENT has been formed along the front of the greater part has been formed along the front of the greater part though, that the election is already settled. No-of section 1, and about 3,000 feet along front of sec-body can tell what the next three months may tion 8. It is about 50 feet wide on top and 6 feet high above low water, with natural slopes on each flats near Easby's point was completed by Thomas P. Morgan May 29, 1884. About 763 cubic yards of stone, out of a necessary 5,000, has been delivered by Potomac Red Sand Stone company to raise the stone along the line of the slope wall.

THE LONG BRIDGE. Col. Hains again calls attention to the necessity emains no plan of improvement can be made satisfactory. As it is at present it retards the flow of water, and will cause the dredged channel to fill again. It it is not to be rebuilt on new piers, with wide spans, it should be put in condition to prevent damage to city property in times of freshet by re-moving 400 feet of the causeway at the south end, and deepening the water between the piers northeast of the draw; but the only radical cure is a new bridge with wider spans. He urgently calls attention to the necessity of building embankments along the sides of the sewer canal to confine the sewage matter. WHAT WILL BE DONE THIS YEAR. It is proposed, with the appropriation of July 5, 1884, to continue dredging the Virginia channel; to increase the cross section of the river above and below the bridge, depositing the material in front of the city, on the flats; to dredge the Washington channel, below the bridge, to a width of 250 feet and a depth of 20 feet, depositing on section 3; to commence the construction of the proposed tidal reserbage wharf from M street and James creek to the Eastern Branch, at S street, and provide a suitable

THE GOODWOOD RACES.

Boston, August 1.—Early this morning a stabbing affair occurred at the North End. An Italian named Morianco Marciona, aged 25, retired as usual with his wife. Between 12 and 1 o'clock she rose and left him, he being asleep. Shortly after an Italian known to the police crept upstairs and stabbed Marciona in the neck, inflicting a wound two and a half inches long. The woman and the assailant have disappeared.

Jennero del Minno, who is believed to have stabbed Marciona, was arrested this morning at Brighton station. It is alleged that Del Minno was intimate with Marciona's wife, and they wanted to put Marciona out of the way. They concluded to murder him, she planning it, and when the time MUNCIE, IND., August 1.—Leslie Clime, clerk of the Kirby house, was arrested yesterday, charged with systematic robbing of guests of the hotel.
